Robyn is a mature, well-mannered individual. She has a great personality and is a pleasure to work with.

She is highly motivated, a fast learner, as well as being independent minded. During the time that I worked with her she was always willing to learn, and also showed initiative when left alone to complete tasks. I would describe her as trustworthy and responsible.

She has a great enthusiasm for the subject, and is committed and passionate about her work. Robyn has excellent technical skills and a good awareness of different aspects of the industry, gained through her various internships.

She is extremely organized and efficient, and I believe that she would be a great asset to any team.
